Total1700
Average 85.

As there are two matches to come off on the 22d—one with the Schuetzen Club, and one of 10 men, 20 shots each, on the ring target, with the Tacoma Rifle Club—Captain Wright has selected as the team to shoot the latter match the ten who made the highest ring target scores yesterday, thus: Saffell, 151; Cowing, Jr., 149; Little 142; Thaxter, 140; Parker, 140; Galusha, 138; Holbrook, 137; Cagwin, 136; Alley, 132; Wilcox, 131. This averages 134 and it will take 140 to win, as the Tacoma team is a strong one. They came within 11 points of catching the Carson team last July.

A Fine Tribute.

The Salt Lake Tribune thus speaks of Janish:

Mme. Janish's acting has the same effect upon the senses as is produced by the perfume of a delicate flower, the vision of a beautiful landscape or the reading of an exquisite poem. It soothes and almost lulls one into that quiet state which comes just before the enjoyment of a sweet repose. She is not what would be called a great emotional actress, nor yet one full of dramatic intensity, but her effectiveness and strength lie in her elegant ease, her refined movements and her dignified yet natural bearing. She possesses a remarkably sweet voice; full of soul and music. Her enunciation is more distinct than Janauschek's, yet occasionally a word is lost by reason of the peculiar emphasis and inflection with which she robes her words.

Mme. Janish grew on her audience as the play progressed, and was so very natural throughout the entire performance that no great climax was needed to add to the appreciation of her charms. The curtain fell on the quiet picture of reconciled husband and wife, which was so perfectly in accord with the exalted portrayal of the part of "Princess Andrea" by Mme. Janish, that one felt that one had been treading upon holy ground, and the desire came over one to steal away as quietly as possible, in order that the tranquilizing impression produced might not be effaced.

Miss Jenny Karsner as the beautiful ballet girl, took immensely with the gallery gods, who gave her several hearty recalls.

Burial of Adam Welter.

Adam Welter, who died recently at Empire, was buried yesterday under the auspices of the Masonic Association. Adam Welter was an old resident of Nevada and was chiefly known for the fidelity by which he stood by the development of the Como district. He stood by Como for twenty years and invested a large amount of money there. About five years ago he built a hotel there which was burned. He was a liberal and progressive Nevada while he lived and leaves a large circle of friends to regret his death.

Convicted of Wounding Cattle.

H. Fenstermaker was found guilty in the District Court at Eureka, and the time of pronouncing sentence set for May 25th. The Sentinel says the crime of which defendant was convicted is that of wounding cattle belonging to Page & Capron, and the penalty is imprisonment in the State Prison for a term of not less than one, nor more than three years, or a fine of $500, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

—W. W. Bishop and wife spent Sunday with Dr. Lee. Bishop is the uncle of Dr. Lee and is defending his brother in the Asylum investigation.

SHAW'S HOT SPRINGS.

He Thinks There is a Leak Somewhere.

For some days Shaw has been having a lively time with his Hot Springs. They have suddenly fallen fifteen inches, although the volume of water is undiminished. He thinks that the building of a high reservoir lifted the water level and increased the pressure, which caused the water to seek a new outlet in some crevice, and found an outlet fifteen inches lower than the old water level. Surveyor Bence has accurately measured the water and its volume is exactly the same as flowed five years ago, showing that the famous springs are by no means playing out. To meet this new order of things Shaw will lower his tanks and bath houses fifteen inches all round and add new baths. He has already got two baths lowered and in working order and is entertaining his guests as before. In ten or twelve days the baths will be running as usual.

Thanks.

The Committee, on behalf of Custer Relief Corps No. 15 and Custer Post No. 5, G. A. R., desiring to express their grateful appreciation of the voluntary and attractive assistance rendered them at their late Campfire, do, in this manner, publicly tender their hearty thanks to Miss Fanny Dorsey, Miss Amy Meder, Miss Gracie Cowing, Master Rossie Meder, and the 12 young ladies in their graceful drill and march; to the Carson Guard and the Boys' Harmonica and Guitar Band; to Messrs. John P. Meder, Nat Dow, James O'Neil, C. E. Bray and F. A. Sargent; to the public press which contributed so greatly to its success, and to a generous and sympathetic public, which, by its countenance and liberal support, gives to the heart of the soldier the assurance that, as the cares of life and years accumulate, and as one by one they fail to answer at the call of the roll, the love for the old flag grows stronger, and that the fires ever burn brightly on the altars of patriotism in the Capital City of this "battle born State.

A Practical Piano Tuner.

About a year ago a man named De Prans came to this city and advertised as a piano tuner. He offered to tune pianos at a greatly reduced price and numbers of people thought they had been paying Prof Zech too much, and accordingly turned their instruments over to De Prans. De Prans tuned pianos, took his money and departed. So far everything seemed lovely, but in a few weeks the ignorance of De Prans as a piano tuner began to tell. All the pianos in Carson began to throw out terrible discords and the instruments which once sent up such lovely strains now filled the hearts of men with hate and the air with discord. The lovesick suitor no longer asked his best girl to play and sing to him, for he knew just the condition of the piano, and pretty soon when a lady wished to decline to play for company she merely nodded to the piano and remarked, "De Prans tuned it." Presently there was a loud outcry all over town for old Jacob Zech and the clamor was so loud that he finally came up and began putting the pianos of Carson in order.

He had to charge a little higher for going over the other man's work but no one kicked and now musical harmony is once more restored in the Capitol city. No more cheap piano tuners need apply here. When last heard of De Prans had been arrested in Nevada county for appropriating a horse. Owners of pianos in this city would like to see him in jail forever.

An Ignorant Watch Owner.

The other day a man came into a Carson watchmakers and showing a $600 Lang watch remarked that it went so slow that it was always behind time an hour. The watchmaker on examining the works said:

"No wonder, you've got the regulator turned clear over here on the slow side."

"Thought that was the fast side."

"Don't you see that letter S" exclaimed the watchmaker.

"Yes, don't S stand for swift."

The Big Pipe.

Tomorrow the Virginia Water Company will begin with the distribution of the twelve-inch pipe which is to be laid from Marlett Lake to Virginia City. The sections will be hauled to the different points, and Rayercraft Bros. have secured the contract. It will require a wagon drawn by twelve horses. The pipe cost one and a half million dollars.

Old Yank.

Old Yank is rather a hard man to down or at least to hold down. He has been burned out three times, foreclosed on mortgage, froze out and cycloned, but this year he is up again as lively as ever with a new hotel near Tallac, and ready to receive guests with the old time smile, the old time whisky and the old time hospitality.

Kleins Denial.

Jake Klein denies that he has ever discouraged hop growing in Nevada. On the contrary he claims that he has been advocating it for five years and will take stock in any hop growing company that starts.
